act play festival is put on each year by Torrance High students. It takes place this year on March 29. Actress Rosemary DeCamp selected the three plays for the festival. Other plays are "My Baby Isn't Mine," and "Dinner at Nine."

Civic Symphony's Production, Il Trovatore, To Be Sung Sunday; Karos Heads Cast

Next Sunday afternoon, March 3, at 2:30 p.m., the Torrance Civic Symphony will stage Verdi's opera, Il Trovatore, sung by six outstanding soloists who have won national recognition.

Wanda Karos, mezzo-soprano, takes the difficult role of Azucena, the gypsy, which generally is considered to be the most important in the opera. At one time, the opera was called The Gypsy.

Mme. Karos won the admiration of opera lovers in this area two years ago when she gave a magnificent rendition of the role of the queen in Aida, also a production of the Civic Symphony.

From St. Louis, Wanda Karos has established herself as one of the West Coast's leading singers. She sang with the Cosmopolitan Opera Co. in San Francisco, the Las Vegas Opera Assn., and the Redlands Bowl.

She has appeared with the Santa Barbara symphony singing the role of the mother in Amahl and the Night Visitors. A review mentioned the "rich, warm voice of the stage mother, Wanda Karos." Wanda Karos will be joined by others of stature, including Anne Eagle Machamer, who is leaving a tour of the West Coast Opera Co. to sing Leonora in Il Trovatore.

Mrs. Machamer has won much praise for this role. She has been a soloist at Hollywood Bowl, and with a number of symphonies.

Enrico Porta, a favorite here, will sing the part of Count di Luna, and Lyle Heck will sing Ferraro. The title role of the troubadour will be sung by the young tenor, Frederic Gates.

A newly-discovered young soprano, Evelyn Gamble, will sing the role of Inez, the maid.

Reserved seats may be ordered from Civic Symphony, 1617 Via Montemar, Palos Verdes Estates. A donation of at least $1 for each seat is suggested. Free seats are available, but cannot be obtained in advance.

Logic Class At Bishop Montgomery

An advanced placement class in philosophy has been started at Bishop Montgomery High School.

It is a class of logic, now being taught with the approval of Loyola University.

This course, attended by nine top senior boys, is being taught by Fr. Felix Bak, O.F.M.Conv., who studied logic under Fr. I.M. Bochen-ski, O.P., professor at the University of Fribourg, in Switzerland, where Fr. Bak majored in theology.

Students in this course are using the Loyola University textbooks. They have access to the joint university library.
